- // Protection of commercial property and trademark law
- // Environmental and technology law, business administration law
- // Pharmaceutical law
- // Compliance
- // Data Privacy
- // Litigation

What you offer

Students

If you just completed the first stage of your law degree with good grades, we offer opportunities to spend your obligatory or elective work experience period in our legal department. You will be given interesting insights into legal work at a publicly listed global company.

Career entrants

To join Bayer, you need to have completed your law degree in good time and with above-average grades in both the first and second state exams, including at least one distinction. Ideally, you should have subsequently broadened your professional knowledge, preferably by studying for a doctoral degree or Master of Law.

Alongside your professional qualifications, we are interested in your personal skill-set. Team spirit, initiative, good communication skills and a flair for negotiating are important. You also need to be flexible and mobile, with a sense of responsibility and an interest in finding solutions. Fluent English is a must and the ability to speak another language would be an advantage. You will fit in particularly well with Bayer if you share our passion to innovate and want your ideas and solutions to bring about change.

What we offer

As an international science-based company, we are passionate about innovations that improve the way people live in our world. Bayer offers an open and inspiring environment. We encourage you to question the status quo and think ahead. It takes imagination, ambition and courage to find answers to society's most pressing questions.

As a lawyer at Bayer, you will be given responsibility for a specific area in our legal department from the beginning. Following a successful start, you will have opportunities to work in different fields in the course of your career. For example, you could broaden your experience through job rotation, deepen your knowledge as an expert or qualify for one of the managerial positions which are open to lawyers.
